Language of the Heart Workshop

Saturday December 8th, 9:30am - 6pm, Gold Bar

We will spend the day focused on present languaging skills. So much of the language that we use separates us from the present moment and disconnects us from our hearts and our Creator. The language of our heart is simple and resides in the present moment and within the me.. As we change clarify our inner dialogue into continued connectedness, we experience our outpicturing as our own radiant world, and our circumstances and relationships are enhanced and enlivened. This is the language of continual prayer and hope that sculpts our tomorrow into meaningful grace. With the language of the heart you change your world.

We will use the Language of Mastery Playbook by Robert Tennyson Stevens which is included in the workshop price.

Language shapes our reality, focuses and directs energy, defines and gives boundaries and is literally accepted by the unconscious mind.

Language is the medium of our thought. Thought is the medium of our reality. Changing our language medium can change our thought which potentially changes our reality.
