

Sarah McLean Bicknell

The North Workshop 2007

Breaking Down the Paradigm

Welcome true ancestors, lucid dreamers and paradigm shape shifters. Saboteurs and limitations begone, for we are the ones dreamt forward to dream. To dream, as community with one heart and one mind, the birth of our new paradigm. We are the ones they have been waiting for.

Bring your jack hammer, sense of humor and a pair of sticks approximately 2ft long and an inch in diameter that you have gathered in a sacred manner.

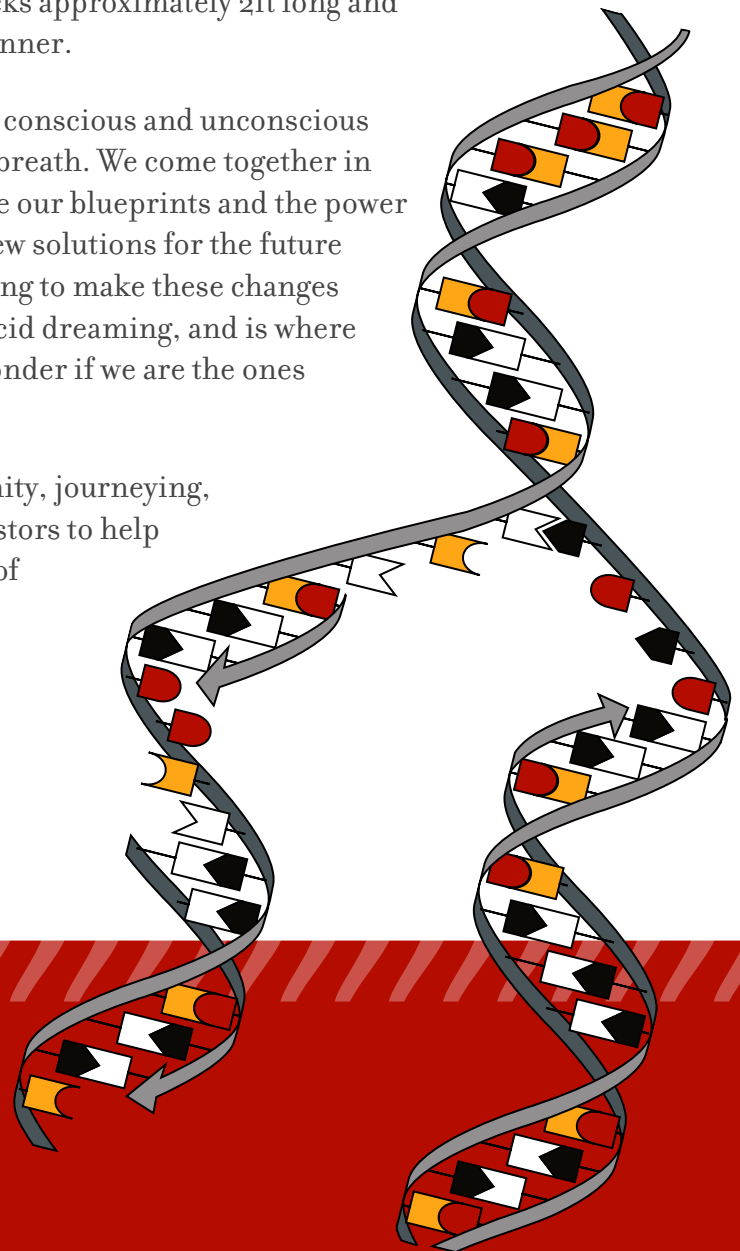

In this workshop we explore the relationship between the conscious and unconscious world, we meet our saboteur, our ancestors, and our first breath. We come together in community to share our dreams and wisdom as we explore our blueprints and the power to transform the lives that came before us into brilliant new solutions for the future seven generations. We are the ones they dreamed into being to make these changes possible. The North is the land of conscious intent and lucid dreaming, and is where the raindrop solidifies into the snowflake. We come to wonder if we are the ones carving the ice sculptures or are we the frozen ice.

We will spend two days and one night together in community, journeying, singing, dreaming, and calling upon the wind of our ancestors to help us to find clarity in the North. We will focus upon the gift of language, communication, and the power of the present conscious moment to hold all that we require.

January 2008

Seattle, USA ~ January 11th - 13th

Glastonbury, UK ~ January 25th - 27th

www.MyEnthios.com

mcleansarah@comcast.net

please call 360-799-1076

for appointments and scheduling